

WHEN: September 30, 7pm ET/4pm PT

Watch on: youtube.com/user/RevolutionBooks1

Or: facebook.com/revbooksnyc/live

Revolution Books in collaboration with the Brooklyn Book Festival presents...

How Fascism Works, and How to Stop It An Online Dialogue With Jason Stanley and Andy Zee

The “F” word – fascism. Can it happen here? Is it happening here? What to do?

Yale philosopher Jason Stanley and Andy Zee, Revolution Books spokesperson and co-initiator of Refuse Fascism, will probe this most urgent question of our times. And you will have a chance to engage with them.

Only by understanding and fully confronting the danger we face can we act to stop it, before it's too late.

- ⚡ Donald Trump announced on September 23 that he wouldn't commit to a "peaceful transfer of power" if he loses.
- ⚡ The Trump/Pence regime spews blatant white supremacy and male supremacy, and xenophobic hatred towards immigrants.
- ⚡ It gives racist "law-and-order" cover and support to police that murder Black men and women like George Floyd and Breonna Taylor.
- ⚡ It moves to crush protest and dissent through paramilitary federal troops and armed white thugs.

These are the facts. Jason Stanley and Andy Zee will explore the lessons of history and the appropriate forms of action...to stop fascism.

Jason Stanley is a philosopher at Yale. His book How Fascism Works: The Politics of Us Against Them sets out essential features and dynamics of fascism.

Andy Zee is a co-initiator of Refuse Fascism and spokesperson for Revolution Books. He makes the case that we are now ruled by a fascist regime and for the call from RefuseFascism.org for mass, sustained, nonviolent but determined protest around the demand Trump/Pence Out Now! to prevent the full consolidation of fascist rule.

Revolution Books is about the world, for a radically different world. This event is part of RB's emergency programming, 60 Defiant Days From Revolution Books: Talks, Dialogue, and Performance. In the Name of Humanity, The Trump/Pence Regime Must Go!

WHEN: September 30, 7pm ET/4pm PT

Watch on: youtube.com/user/RevolutionBooks1

Or: facebook.com/revbooksnyc/live

Revolution Books in collaboration with the Brooklyn Book Festival presents...

How Fascism Works, and How to Stop It An Online Dialogue With Jason Stanley and Andy Zee

The “F” word – fascism. Can it happen here? Is it happening here? What to do?

Yale philosopher Jason Stanley and Andy Zee, Revolution Books spokesperson and co-initiator of Refuse Fascism, will probe this most urgent question of our times. And you will have a chance to engage with them.

Only by understanding and fully confronting the danger we face can we act to stop it, before it's too late.

- ⚡ Donald Trump announced on September 23 that he wouldn't commit to a "peaceful transfer of power" if he loses.
- ⚡ The Trump/Pence regime spews blatant white supremacy and male supremacy, and xenophobic hatred towards immigrants.
- ⚡ It gives racist "law-and-order" cover and support to police that murder Black men and women like George Floyd and Breonna Taylor.
- ⚡ It moves to crush protest and dissent through paramilitary federal troops and armed white thugs.

These are the facts. Jason Stanley and Andy Zee will explore the lessons of history and the appropriate forms of action...to stop fascism.

Jason Stanley is a philosopher at Yale. His book How Fascism Works: The Politics of Us Against Them sets out essential features and dynamics of fascism.

Andy Zee is a co-initiator of Refuse Fascism and spokesperson for Revolution Books. He makes the case that we are now ruled by a fascist regime and for the call from RefuseFascism.org for mass, sustained, nonviolent but determined protest around the demand Trump/Pence Out Now! to prevent the full consolidation of fascist rule.

Revolution Books is about the world, for a radically different world. This event is part of RB's emergency programming, 60 Defiant Days From Revolution Books: Talks, Dialogue, and Performance. In the Name of Humanity, The Trump/Pence Regime Must Go!